Chapter Excerpt: "The Last Letter"

The wind whispers through the empty streets, carrying memories long buried beneath the rubble. In a small attic room, an old man sits at a cluttered desk, pen trembling in his hand. Outside, the sun dips below the horizon, casting shadows that dance like ghosts.

"Dear Clara," he begins, voice thick with emotion. "It's been years since I last wrote, since I last dared to put pen to paper. Yet here I am, haunted by the echoes of what was and what could have been."

He pauses, staring at the faded photograph of a young woman—his wife, lost to time and war. His hand trembles as he continues.

"The war took everything—our home, our children, our future. But it never took my memory of you. Every night, I see your smile in my dreams, hear your voice in the silence. I wonder if the words I write will ever reach you across the void."
